5. [ ] LIAISON In view of information we received from Guy McConnell, Senate Appropriations Committee staff, the other day that Senator Daniel K. Inouye (D., Hawaii) would be handling the intelligence portion of the Conference on the Defense Appropriations bill for the Senate Conferees, I called Danny Childs, on the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence staff, and queried him about this. Childs said that he would be "backing up" Senator Inouye in the Conference and likely would be attending the Conference sessions. He noted that the Conferees would be considering the intelligence appropriation first (tomorrow at 10:00 a.m.) and he fully expected that part of the Conference would be concluded in one day. I asked Childs if he needed anything from the Agency or the Intelligence Community Staff in connection with the Conference and he said he did not, that he had everything pretty well lined up.

Lowenthal said he expected as much, and had so warned his requester beforehand; he had checked with an oversight committee staffer (not further identified) who had written a "history" on the Agency, and she had said such figures were not available in unclassified form; he added that he understood the problem, and had no problem with it.
